CODE OF CONDUCT

Forward

1. These guidelines are to help promote the courtesies to be displayed by all members to one another. They exist to ensure that the environment of the Club is a place where members can take full enjoyment of their hobby without experiencing avoidable unpleasant situations. The purpose of the ASRG is to facilitate and nurture, as best we can, the infrastructure and society most advantageous to members' online sim racing experiences.
2. As with all competitive sport or hobbies, there will be some who take it very seriously, and some who don't. We endeavour to accommodate all skill levels and attitudes within an atmosphere where all can take part in the fun that's on offer, and without detracting from the enjoyment of others. .
3. Participation in our activities will need you to conduct yourself in a sportsman like manner at all times, and you should expect no less from your fellow Club members.
4. Rules are a necessary part of life, and this Club is no exception. The general codes of conduct are outlined here so you know what is expected of you, your fellow members and competitors, your Clubs' Committee, and your Clubs' Officers.
5. There are penalties that can be applied for breaking these rules. These may vary from warnings to expulsion/suspension from competitions or events or expulsion/suspension from the ASRG altogether. We hope that such penalties will never need to be applied.

CONDUCT OF ALL MEMBERS

1. You will be responsible to familiarise yourself with and abide by all the rules which affect your participation in any ASRG activity.
2. You will compete in ASRG competitions and events in a fair and honest manner.

Exceptions are the application of patches, updates, and necessary modifications, but which do not remove an existing service or establish a new service. The Committee to be advised of such modifications within in 7 days of their application.

Failure to abide by the above may result in penalties ranging from warnings to being expelled/suspended from the ASRG Inc. at the discretion of club administration.

1) Where a Member is asked for a password, such as the Club, League or FTP password, the member supplying the Password should ensure the recipient is eligible to receive said password. 2) League Webmasters given the Website Password must only use it to access their Folder unless requested otherwise by the Committee.

CONDUCT OF THE COMMITTEE, COMMITTEE MEMBERS AND OFFICERS OF THE CLUB

Members can expect the following conduct from their Committee and their Club Officers.

1. The Committee as a whole, and the Officers and members of the Committee as individuals, must treat the general members, one another, and the public, politely and in a professional manner at all times while representing the ASRG.

2. The Committee and its members must provide prompt and honest answers to members' questions with relevant and appropriate detail. If that is not possible for a valid reason, then members will be told why it is not possible. (There may occasionally be valid reasons for withholding detailed information at times, but these occasions should be the exception and not the rule. e.g. A deal with a possible sponsor might not be finalised and to release details may jeopardise the outcome).

3. The Committee and its' members will not knowingly mislead general members, or Committee members, or the Clubs' Officers, or the public, by making false or misleading statements, nor will they withhold information of which the general members and/or the Committee members and/or the Clubs' Officers are entitled to be aware.

4. The Committee will not pass resolutions or make decisions that override the Constitution. Nor will the Committee pass a Committee resolution or make a Committee decision that overrides a resolution passed by the general membership.

5. The President will be kept informed on all significant activities undertaken by Committee members on behalf of and/or in the name of the Club.

6. The Committee or the Officers of the Club will not distribute or circulate general questionnaires, general Club information material, or solicit opinions or votes from the membership on general Club matters unless such distribution or circulation is made available to the entire membership in the same form via the same mode of communication and at the same time and date as it is sent to any other member. League related matters are exempt from this clause.

7. Committee members will accept the responsibility to run the Club on a day to day basis according to the constitution, membership resolutions, Committee resolutions, and Committee decisions. They will not carry out an action or engage in an activity, or refrain from carrying out an action or disengage from an activity, in violation of the constitution, a membership resolution, a Committee resolution, or a Committee decision.

8. Due process will always be observed and members will be consulted and given reasonable opportunity to express their thoughts on proposed significant changes to the services and directions of the Club. Acting without due process will only be done in highly extraordinary and exceptional emergency circumstances, and if done then a full explanation of why such was necessary without due consultation will be provided as soon as possible to the President and Committee. As soon as possible after such an emergency action the membership will be given the opportunity to endorse or reject the action.

9. The Committee and its' members will regard the content of all Committee discussions via and/or on any media as totally private. They will not disclose the content or nature of such discussions to other parties outside of the Committee. The general members need to allow the Committee members this form of privacy, as Committee members need to feel that they can express their thoughts, positive or negative, on various matters openly and frankly with one another in private. (This does not include the final drafts of Committee discussions and Committee resolutions, which of course the general members will have the right to be informed about).

10. General members will be notified of Committee resolutions by the publication of the Committee meeting minutes. Committee decisions will be made available by either bulk membership emails and/or notices on the forum, ftp site, and Web site and/or by documents available by electronic retrieval by members, from time to time but no later than one month from the last such publication. Access to these documents to be restricted by password available to members only.

11. Committee members who are responsible for or are assigned specific tasks will complete those tasks within a reasonable time. If a deadline is applied and accepted by the task assignee, then every reasonable effort must be made to meet the deadline. If a Committee member does not feel they can agree to a necessary deadline, or have agreed but afterwards feel that they can not honour it, they will inform the President as soon as possible so that assistance or reassignment may be arranged. If it becomes a concern that a task cannot be completed by its' due date by the current person responsible for it, and no satisfactory explanation can be obtained from that person within a short period, the President may reassign the affected tasks to another person.

12. Committee members will endeavour to attend all general and Committee meetings unless they have a valid reason for not doing so.
